The Neighbors' Place is glad to offer Community Garden plots free of charge to community members, and we ask that all gardeners adhere to our guidelines to ensure all gardeners have an enjoyable season:

_____ The Community Garden plots remain 'organic' so all gardeners have access to a chemical-free garden space. This means no chemical herbicides or pesticides are allowed in the garden.

_____ Gardeners are welcome to use a free Community Garden plot, but are asked to donate 10% of their produce to The Neighbors' Place food pantry.

_____ Gardeners are required to maintain and clean out their plot throughout and after the growing season.

All gardeners are expected to garden according to these guidelines. If the Community Gardener is unable to comply with these guidelines, it may jeopardize their ability to keep their plot or acquire a plot in the future.
